Helping your family soar to new heights

We are here to help your family: ECSS Program

The Early Childhood Supports and Services (ECSS) program aims to support the healthy growth of babies and young children—from birth through five years—by helping families through early challenges that can affect a child's emotions and behaviors.

Whether you're a parent, caregiver, or pregnant person, ECSS is here to help bring families closer and give your child a great start in life. Our team works with you to understand your family's needs and connect you with services that can make a real difference during the early years of your child's life.

ECSS is here to walk with you every step of the way. These are some of the services that our program can help you with:

- Parenting skills to learn about your child's growth.
- Help to manage challenging behaviors in young children.
- Therapy options like Child-Parent Psychotherapy (CPP) and Parent-Child Interaction Therapy (PCIT)
- Resource Navigators who guide you to community services that can help your family every day.
- Support for pregnant people to learn about their baby's growth, reduce stress, and build a strong bond before birth.

How ECSS Resource Navigators can support your family

Each clinic has friendly workers who help parents and caregivers find the help they need. They can show you where to get things to make life better for your family. Our team can help you find resources for food assistance, health services, libraries, childcare, early learning programs, parks, housing, financial and job support, transportation, help to recover, family safety, basic needs, and emergency help.

ECSS wants your child to grow healthy and your family to feel cared for. We are here to walk with you from pregnancy, birth, and through your child's first five years. If you or someone you know is pregnant or caring for a child from birth through five years of age, ECSS is here to help. Call us today at 1-800-327-0205 to see how we can support your family.
